

Marco Bruzzano

Vice President
Distribution Operations, DTE Energy

Marco Bruzzano is the Vice President of Distribution Operations for DTE Energy (NYSE:DTE), a Detroit-based diversified energy company involved in the development and management of energy-related businesses and services nationwide. Its operating units include an electric utility serving 2.2 million customers in Southeastern Michigan and a natural gas utility serving 1.3 million customers in Michigan. The DTE Energy portfolio includes non-utility energy businesses focused on power and industrial projects, natural gas pipelines, gathering and storage, and energy marketing and trading. As one of Michigan's leading corporate citizens, DTE Energy is a force for growth and prosperity in the 450 Michigan communities it serves in a variety of ways, including philanthropy, volunteerism and economic progress.

In his role, Bruzzano is focused on the company's multi-year effort to improve electric system reliability while managing costs to keep energy affordable. Bruzzano is directly responsible for overseeing the company's engineering and planning functions, driving improvements in asset management and work management processes, and leveraging technology to improve operational performance.

Prior to his current role, he was Vice President of Corporate Strategy for DTE Energy, supporting a broad range of efforts, including developing a long-term investment strategy for electric distribution, assessing the implications of alternative electric market structures and evaluating M&A opportunities. Bruzzano also led DTE's cost and operational benchmarking programs and the development of long-term commodity price forecasts.

Prior to joining DTE in 2008, Bruzzano worked broadly across the energy industry for nearly 20 years, including as a Principal with Booz Allen Hamilton and Engagement Manager with McKinsey & Co. During this time, he advised global energy companies, electric utilities and power producers on strategy, operations and organizational effectiveness.

Bruzzano earned an MBA with distinction from Duke University. He also holds a Bachelor of Science, with honors, and a Master of Science, both in Mechanical Engineering, from the Georgia Institute of Technology.

In 2018 Bruzzano was nominated by Governor Snyder to serve a two-year term on the very first Michigan Infrastructure Council. Bruzzano also serves on the boards of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Endeavor Detroit and NextEnergy.